

I think it would be a great idea to have broad band over the power lines.

In the reading ,Pa area it would give the cable company some compotition so as to drop the prices for internet on the cable.